- 2) Daily briefing

A pilots briefing for all classes will be held on the beach near the technical zone at the start of each racing day to define the circuits for the classes, start lines, start order etc... Specific or last minute information on the event will be announced at this time too. Pilots and yachts are expected to be in the technical zone and ready to sail 30 minutes BEFORE the announced time of (race) briefing. The class running order for the first day will be announced at the daily briefing of the first day. In principal, the starting order for all the consecutive days will be announced at the price giving the day before and be posted on the ONB.

- 3) Race Briefing

Before the start of each race, the circuit race director will hold a race specific briefing on the race track. Language of these race briefings will be English + French. This briefing is mandatory.

3. Starting numbers – Morel Grid

A sticker containing a morel grid and the pilot's personal starting numbers will be provided at the general briefing to all competing pilots. Each pilot is obliged to put this sticker on his yacht prior to the first race. Cfr Special Rules.

4. Start

Pilots who start too early will be considered as "compromising the result". (ISSR / special Jury attention)

5. Sailing during other classes races.

Without permission of the race director, it is absolutely forbidden to sail while another race is in progress. Pilots who ignore this rule will be sanctioned.

6. Technical check

The Race Team can ask the Jury to perform a technical check and sail measurement at any given time.

When not sailing, pilots are obliged to secure their yachts to prevent them from moving on their own, or causing any damage to people or other yachts. This may be sanctioned and pilots will be held responsible for all damages caused by their yacht.

8. Accidents

Pilots (and others) who are involved in an accident, must stand upright ASAP in order to signal that they are not hurt badly.

9. Sail numbers

Each pilot must use the same sail number during the championship. This is the same number that was applied during the inscription. Pilots who use a different sail number will not be scored. Pilots who use an unclear or hard to read sail number will also not be scored. (see ISRR)

All pilots are asked to put the sponsor stickers provided by the organization on a clearly visible spot on their yacht. (without sponsors it is not possible to organize championships now or in the future)

11. Class specifications

Pilots remain responsible to follow the conformity of the class rules. The jury may ask the scrutineering team to check class specifications during the whole event.

12. Race circuit A and race circuit B

There are 2 race circuits: Circuit A = club direction West (France) and Circuit B will be club direction East.
